Oracle's Ellison Remains Biggest Jewish Billionaire on Forbes List

Larry Ellison

(JTA) — Oracle founder Larry Ellison is top ranked among Jewish individuals appearing on the Forbes magazine's annual list of world billionaires, coming in at sixth with $36 billion.

Ellison held the same ranking last year but with $28 billion.

Casino and hotel magnate Sheldon Adelson, with $24.9 billion, moved up to No. 14 from 78. Adelson and his family have donated at least $20 million to a Super PAC supporting GOP presidential hopeful Newt Gingrich. Adelson also is a major

Energy Bonanza Found Offshore

BY ILAN BEN ZION

Large quantities of oil and natural gas were discovered off the coast of Tel Aviv, Modiin Energy and Adira Energy Corporation announced on Tuesday.

The find, called the Gabriella field, is 24 kilometers off shore in shallow water. "At a time of soaring oil prices, this is good news... for the Israeli economy, which is trying to diversify its energy sources," Haim Gavrieli, CEO of IDB Holding Corp. Ltd., the parent company of Modiin, told Globes.

Modiin intends to start drilling by late 2012 and will produce and market the oil in Israel.

Three-dimensional seismic surveys proved the Gabriella site and the nearby Yitzhak area

'Azerbaijan Arrests 22 Over Terror Plot Against Israel, U.S.'

Officials in Azerbaijan announced the arrest of 22 people suspected of plotting attacks on Israeli and U.S. embassies in the capital Baku on behalf of Iran, AFP reported Wednesday.

"Twenty-two citizens of Azerbaijan were arrested by the national security ministry for cooperating with [Iran]," the Azeri National Security Ministry said according to AFP, connecting the plots to the Iranian Revolutionary Guards.

The arrests mark the second time this year Baku said it made arrests over a foiled terrorist plot involving Iran, the first being in February.

The announcement of these new arrests came a day after Azerbaijani Defense Minister Safar Abiyev met with senior officials in Tehran for talks centered around maintaining good relations, after Tehran expressed dissatisfaction with an arms deal to the tune of $1.6 Baku made with archenemy Israel.

"We will not allow Azerbaijan's soil to be used against Iran under any conditions," Abiyev

Jewish Home Opens New Culinary Center

The Jewish Home of Rochester has announced the opening of the Beyond Chicken Soup Culinary Center, a state-of-the-art cooking center for residents of the Jewish Home and their families. The Jewish Home is the only long-term care facility in the area to have a culinary kitchen.

The culinary kitchen will serve many functions. It will reintroduce many residents to the joys of cooking; help rehabilitation patients to relearn skills they will need in order to prepare meals when they return home; provide the opportunity for residents and their families to cook favorite recipes together; and it will be a venue for cooking classes and demonstrations. Cooking can be very therapeutic in that it fosters reminiscing, manual dexterity, confidence and a sense of pride.

Funds for the culinary center came from the sale of the "Beyond Chicken Soup Cookbook," a collection of recipes from members of the Jewish Home Auxiliary and the Rochester community. The cookbook was published in 1995 after years of hard work by the Jewish Home Auxiliary, and is currently sold at

Energy Production Revolution Begins in Mideast

BY JAMES ROSEN

Scenes of carnage and upheaval have been playing out for so many decades in the Middle East — car bombings, terrorist attacks, wars, intifadas, and the slightly more optimistic images associated with the Arab Spring — that they are by now well familiar.

But there is another revolution in the Mideast, presently underway, that is not being televised. It centers on the all-important area of energy production, and it might be called, "the Battle for Leviathan."

At issue is the recent discovery of huge untapped natural gas fields in the Levant Basin, the section of the eastern Mediterranean Sea that abuts Israel to the East, and Cyprus to the North.

The U.S. Geological Survey estimates that this underwater area holds 123 trillion cubic feet of recoverable natural gas. In simpler terms: That's equal to

Israel Develops Its Own Bunker Buster

(DEBKAFfile) — Israel has developed an improved precision, bunker-burrowing weapon which Israeli Military Industries unveiled on March 6. The 500-pound MPR-500 is an electro-optical (laser-guided) bomb that can penetrate double-reinforced concrete walls or floors without breaking apart.

The bomb was shown in action penetrating four reinforced concrete walls with fragmentation from the explosion limited to a radius of less than three meters.

The new weapon is designed as an upgrade for the U.S. Mk82 in Israel Air Force stocks. "The lethality, precision... and relatively low weight of the new weapon," say its manufacturers, "enable its use against multiple targets in a single pass."

After blowing the first hole in the targeted underground site, the next bombs continue to extend and deepen it.

MPR-500 Made by Israel's Military Industries.

The MPR-500 bridges an operational gap between the 250-pound U.S. GBU-39 small-diameter bomb, 1,000 of which were approved for sale to Israel, and the 5,000-pound GBU-28 American super-bunker buster. DEBKAFfile notes: The IMI's presentation of the MPR-500 took place at the height of Israel's argument with the Obama administration over the need for a near-term strike on Iran's nuclear sites — especially those Tehran is busy transferring to fortified underground bunkers.

It attracted little attention because on the same day, Iran was invited by the Six Powers for nuclear negotiations, Tehran sent out its own invitation to U.N. nuclear inspectors to visit the suspect military site of Parchin (about which Iran has been hedging since) and the British cabinet received a top-secret intelligence briefing on the likelihood of an Israeli attack.

The Israeli Air Force is also reported to be planning to enlarge its Boeing-707 based aerial refueling tanker fleet, another key component in Israel's ability to carry out an aerial strike against a target as distant as Iran. The expanded tanker fleet, by providing nearly 2 million pounds of fuel, would allow dozens of Israel F-15 and F-16 warplanes to carry more weapons on this mission.

Israeli officials have consistently challenged the claims of some experts that they lack the military capacity for a successful strike against Iran's nuclear facilities. ★

New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg was the next Jewish person at 20th, with $22 billion — like Ellison, $8 billion richer than last year — followed by George Soros at 22nd, up from 35th with $20 billion.

Google co-founders Sergey Brin and Larry Page were tied for 24th with $18.7 billion each.

Other Jews to make the top 100 included Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg at 35th with $15.5 billion; Brazilian banking and investment mogul Joseph Safra at 52 with $13.8 billion; Russian steel magnate Roman Abramovich at 68 with $12.1 billion; and U.S. businessman Ronald Perelman at 69 with $12 billion.

Thirteen Israelis made the list, down from 16 last year. Eyal and Idan Ofer became the two newest Israelis on the list, inheriting their fortunes from their father, shipping magnate Sammy Ofer. Israel's richest man died last June after coming in 79th last year with 10.3 billion. Idan Ofer entered the list at 161st with $6.2 billion and Eyal Ofer was No. 173 with $5.8 billion.

Carnival Cruise CEO Micky Arison dropped from 62nd to 223rd with $4.7 billion, just months after one of his cruise ships sank near Italy.

Mexican telecom businessman Carlos Slim Helu and his family topped the list with $69 billion. ★ was quoted by the ISNA news agency as saying after meeting his Iranian counterpart Ahmad Vahidi in Tehran, in an apparent attempt to soothe Iranian nerves jittery over neighboring Azerbaijan's increasingly close ties with Israel.

Iran accused Azerbaijan of allowing Mossad agents to operate from Azeri territory in order to gather intelligence on the Islamic Republic.

On February 21, Baku announced it had arrested a number of people with links to Iran and Lebanese Hezbollah that were planning to attack foreign citizens in the Eurasian nation, though reports did not identify Israeli or U.S. targets.

The state TV report said the suspects had bought weapons including firearms and explosives, and had gathered intelligence on potential targets. The suspects had links to Iran's intelligence agency and to Lebanese Hezbollah.

According to reports, one of those arrested was an Iranian member of the Quds Force. ★
